1889. Nov., 22nd	200	12mo	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	1 2 0	Mādhav Chandra Banerji, 63, College Street, Calcutta.	In the preface the writer quotes the Times' notice of Tantiā's career. He gives long accounts of Tantiā's dacoities in different villages of Central India and of his generosity towards boys, females and Brahmans. The writer expatiates on Tantiā's ingenuity in baffling the attempts of the police to arrest him. He led a dacoit's life for eleven years, and was at last betrayed by a friend to Resaldar-Major Isvari Prasad, C.I.E., of Holkar's Army.	9515

Wide Bay bar—Alterations in channels and beacons, and certain leading lights exhibited.

THE following information has been received from the British Admiralty (No. 639 of 1890), relative to alterations in the channels of Wide Bay bar; to alterations in the beacons on Hook point; and to the exhibition of certain leading lights:—

Vessels are recommended not to use the North channel. New channel, about $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables southward of Middle bank, had a depth of 16 feet over the bar in September 1890. South channel, about $1\frac{1}{10}$ miles north-eastward of Inskip point outer beacon, had a depth of 13 feet over the bar in September 1890.

The western square beacon on Hook point remains in position. The eastern square beacon on the coast, and the two triangular beacons have been removed. A beacon has been erected on the coast line with the western square beacon bearing W. by N. $\frac{3}{4}$ N., distant about 400 yards. Another beacon has been erected on the coast line with the western square beacon bearing N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W., distant about 480 yards.

A fixed white light is exhibited from the western square beacon; a fixed white light from this northern coast beacon; and a fixed red light from this southern coast beacon.

The western square beacon in line with the northern coast beacon, or the fixed white lights in line, bearing W. by N. $\frac{3}{4}$ N., lead through New channel. The western square beacon in line with the southern coast beacon, or the fixed white and red lights in line, bearing N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W., lead through South channel.

NOTE.—The two beacons near the western extreme of Inskip point are now in line when bearing S. W. by W. $\frac{3}{4}$ W.

(Variation 9° Easterly in 1890.)

By direction of the Government of Bengal,

EATON W. PETLEY,
Port Officer of Calcutta.

PORT OFFICE, CALCUTTA, the 22nd December 1890.
